i. Quality of teaching for all

Children are able to talk about their feelings in a controlled way and acknowledge problems can be solved.	One member of staff who is trained in emotional health and wellbeing/therapy/techniques to be non-class based. Caseloads on a needs-led basis, identified and monitored by the Welfare Team/SENDCOs	1:1 sessions allow a child to share anything on their mind and seek support or advice from Miss Ikin. It creates an emotionally safe ethos in the room and the children will always feel happy to share their thoughts/fears/worries. This will mean the teacher is aware of concerns early on before they become a catalyst for anger.	Pupil interviews/evaluations Drop ins to lessons will demonstrate the ethos and support. Staff training.	S Ikin £49k	January 2017
Children make expected or better attainment and talk with enthusiasm about their academic future.	Pupil progress meetings half termly will inform how the children are achieving. Children will be inspired by visitors who talk about their jobs/careers.	Children who are not on track to meet their end of year target will gain support from intervention (subject support, nurture). ii. Targeted support

Desired outcome	Chosen action/approach	What is the evidence and rationale for this choice?	How will you ensure it is implemented well?	Staff lead	When will you review implementation?
Children are able to talk about their feelings in a controlled way and acknowledge problems can be solved.	Some PP children will attend nurture time to talk about their feelings. – a new Emotional health & wellbeing leader is now off timetable.	Children open up and learn strategies to cope with unhappy feelings. They find solutions to problems or friendship issues and then they can then become more engaged in school work.	Intervention plans will show the children who need support in this area. Assessments will be made and monitored Parental involvement	S Ikin	January 2017

Children make expected or better attainment and talk with enthusiasm about their academic future. Focus on Yr5 behaviour and attitudes to learning	Pupil progress meetings will focus on how the PP children feel about their future and areas of the curriculum they find strength. Yr5 targeted for improved behaviour, engagement and attainment	Children are inspired by stories of people who have achieved something even if they once thought they wouldn't. They can begin to see that school teaches them skills which can easily be used in many careers – this will explicitly show them how what they are learning can lead to a job they will enjoy or a University course they will enjoy. Behaviour and attitudes to learning in Yr5 is quite poor for some pupils and must be addressed.	Feedback from staff and TAs will inform SLT as to whether the children can see that their schooling is teaching them vital skills in order to achieve their desired career or future dreams. Monitoring will show children can discuss how what they are learning in class can be used as a skill outside the classroom. Monitor Behaviour for Learning sessions.	SLT H Cragg £60k	January 2017
Standards in writing in KS1 will improve	The curriculum will allow for more boy friendly books to be incorporated at whole school/class level. If travel is an issue for families they will be offered ways to help. Discos and treats for 'never absent, never late' pupils	When children attend school regularly without constant breaks, they make more progress. Evidence shows that children who attend school make better friendships, take more ownership in their learning and are more confident. Children enjoy receiving awards and will often try harder when an award is being offered.	Attendance will be monitored half termly. Any absence will be addressed immediately. 7. Additional detail

£4k was allocated towards four members of staff training on the 'Teaching Leaders Programme'. This programme aimed to deliver impact – change initiatives for Ever6 pupils. However, in reality, the programme did not meet our expectations, in terms of high standards and vigour. It was concluded that the money would be better spent in allowing those four members of staff to continue with their identified projects in school, but to withdraw from the actual programme.

The four projects were:

- >Behaviour 4 Learning
- >Book based topics/planning
- >Raising standards in maths
- >Developing e-safety and e-cadets
